WILMINGTON, N. C., THURSDAY, NOV. 13, 1860.

What the election of Lincoln, and the triumph of Northern sectionalism means, may be fairly deduced from the declarations and assertions of the leading and most authoritative organs of that party, made since the all and more than all that we had attributed to it. It means a sweeping away of all the guaranties of State in its worse form is to be the controlling element in the tion is to rule and the other to submit, the measure of territorial policy of the Government. It means that slave property is to be excluded from the Territories, and new slave States from the Union-it means that the existing opinion of the Supreme Court on the subject of the rights of slaveholders in the common territories is to be principle, and this policy and principle is to be perma-"spit upon." It means that the whole influence of the nent. Federal Government is to be cast into the scale of opposition to the institutions of our section of the Union, it being regarded as a moral, social and political evil.-It means that the machinery of the united Administration in the Southern States is to be used, as far as posthe South and paving the way for the final consumma-given to Lincoln in nearly every Northern State.

It means, further, that while all this is to be done, we that we feel differently now from what we did at any are to be compelled to pay a tribute in the shape of a former time. This is not the first time that the Demo- but fifty-four. While we have every reason to be encouhigh protective Tariff, which tribute is to swell the cratic party has been defeated, nor, in any event could wealth and insolence of our oppressors.

The New York Courier and Enquirer says, speaking | for offices, or who live upon patronage, the mere success of the excitement at the South

Let those threats be buried in oblivion, for through the tance. To us, the principle underlying the whole matlong vista of this success we see a reign of peace from slavery agitation, established simply by that circumscribing of slavery within its local bounds and that firm defence of the interruty of rational freedom, which this triumph of the Republican party on the 6th of November, 1860, seals now sideration. We feel that the step—the great step has and henceforth.

The New York Times says :

Our success in the election, by deciding one question, the extension of slavery to the Territories, has deprived our party of one important bond of union, one of the most powerful causes which have attracted to it the interest and favor

There can be no doubt whatever in the mind of any man, that Mr. Lincom regards slavery as a moral, a social and political evil, and that it should be dealt with as such by the Federal Government, in every instance where it is called upon to deal with it at all. On this point there is no room for question—and there need be no misgivings as to his official action. The whole influence of the executive department ticket. We are conscious of no disposition to do inof the Government, while in his hands, will be thrown against the extension of slavery into the new Territories of the Union and the re-opening of the African slave trade. On sider ourselves amenable to the charge which the Prohese points he will make no compromise nor yield one hair's breadth to coercion from any quarter or in any shape. He will do all in his power, personally and officially, by the direct exerseparable from it, to arrest the tendency to make slavery national and perpetual.

In another article the New York Evening Post says: come from the Progress office, but the one to which The Wilmot Proviso is now consecrated as a part of the we made reference. This reference was made not for national public policy by this election.

The New York World says: "This result is the consummation of the greatest political revolution since the organization of the government. Its on their guard. The Progress says it did print other seeds were sown sixteen years ago, in the annexation of Texas. The upshot of these sixteen years agitation of the territorial question is the triumph, now reached, of a policy | der it filled just as it would have printed a handbill, of- our State, was used in the morning service in all the by which slavery will be forever excluded from the national territory and confined to the States in which it exists."

Here is what Mr. Sumner, one of the great lights of this Republican party, said before the election, speaking of this very plan of excluding slavery from all the Territories, and admitting no new slave States:

Surely, then, in its retreat, smarting under the indignation of an aroused people, and the concurring judgment of the civilized world, it must die ;-it may be, as a poisoned rat dies, of rage in its hole. Are men who attach importance to these things to be succeed at as fanatics, on denounced as

It is folly to deny that a substantial revolution in our look for a brief and pointed statement of the case. We Federal Government has been accomplished. That to all intents and purposes the South has ceased to exist as a power in the State-that the whole force of the Federal Government is hereafter to be controlled by and for one section-that so far as the Federal Government is concerned, the institutions and rights of the minority sections are hereafter only to be known to be opposed by the whole influence and power of the common agent.

It will not do to meet these facts by flippant witticisms, neither will their still small voice be drowned by shouts for the "glorious Union." The position of affairs is altogether too grave for mere declamation. If anything is to be done, let it be done. If nothing is to be done, then nothing ought to be saul. We beg and beseech the press and the Legislators of this State to take these considerations home to their hearts and judgments. If you, gentlemen of the press, can offer practical suggestions for doing something, offer them-if you gentlemen of the Legislature, mean to do anything pracsubstantive policy and carry it out.

We do not care to have any controversy or discussion with those who do. For months we have noticed nothing in the Fayetteville Obsrrver, wherein any reference is made to ourselves or our paper. Its petty attacks pass us by unheeded. So let them pass. The Journal is altogether beyond the reach of its malice, or the malice of others that we wot of. For our own part, we rather think that we are either deficient in that holy (?) rancour which forms the chief characteristic of the Observer, or we are too lazy to trouble ourselves by cherishing any feelings of animosity to our Snarleyyow cotemporary of Fayetteville. We don't know when we referred to it before, and we don't know when we shall do so again-never, in all probability.

We endeavor to treat all our cotemporaries with courtesy. All our references to them are conceived in this spirit. We have had no controversy with the Observer for months, for the simple reason that we could not be met in the same spirit by that paper. Its allusion to us in its last issue is wholly gratuitous. We re-affirm all to which the Observer objects, and if it do't like it, why, let it do just as it pleases; we don't care a pin-we are tired of its tone of gratuitous abuse.
